CYBEROO: STARTING FROM MAY, A PODCAST CYCLE ON CYBER SECURITY AND SMART WORKING

The initiative aims to raise awareness of the risk of hacker attacks on remotely connected networks

Reggio Emilia, 27 April 2020 - Cyberoo S.p.A., an innovative SME listed on AIM Italia, specialized in cyber security for businesses, continues to support Italian companies increasingly dealing with smart working and the IT risks associated with it.

The new initiative, scheduled in May, consists in the launch of a cycle of six training podcasts, lasting about 20 minutes, on the danger of hacker attacks on company networks connected remotely, in a period characterized by a widespread use of remote and smart working.

The idea of training podcasts on cyber security arises from the consideration that cyber security represents a complex process made up of people and that, in addition to technologies, it is increasingly necessary to leverage the knowledge asset.

Only in this way, companies will be able to implement the best strategic choices capable of protecting their network infrastructures, in a historical phase characterized by an ever-increasing exposure to this type of risk.

The podcasts join the "Defense for Italy" project, with which Cyberoo is committed to support Italian companies facing the Covid-19 emergency, offering a package of cyber security solutions for three months free of charge, and other web initiatives already started.
